

TAFT DECIDES TO KEEP "HANDS OFF" MEXICO FOR THE PRESENT

PRESIDENT DETERMINES TO REAFFIRM NON-INTERVENTION ATTITUDE OF U. S.

Conclusion is Reached at Early Hour This Morning After a Conference Held at the White House Reviewing the Situation From Every Angle and Reply Is Drafted Answering President Madero's Telegram Asking That Intervention be Withheld

BULLETIN.
WASHINGTON, SUNDAY, FEB. 16.—"Hands off" Mexico for the present was the decision of President Taft and the cabinet, reached at a prolonged session which lasted until the early hours of this morning.
Mr. Taft and seven of his advisers, gathered in the white house after reviewing the situation from every angle and particularly the proposed armistice in Mexico City during which non-combatants are to be removed, with the creation of a neutral zone for the American embassy, determined to reaffirm the non-intervention attitude of the United States but meanwhile keeping the army and navy ready for instant action.
It was practically determined that no further communication would go to President Madero at this time.

Will Prepare Statement.
The cabinet meeting broke up just after 12:30 a. m. Secretary Knox announced that Secretary Hilles would prepare and make public the only statement to be given out. Other members of the cabinet referred all inquiries to Mr. Hilles. His statement was as follows:
"At a meeting of the cabinet tonight various dispatches from Mexico were considered and it was decided that the information so far received afforded no basis for a change in the policy of the government of the United States already indicated many times in the last two years."

Reaffirms Attitude of U. S.
The reply to President Madero as finally framed was in diplomatic terms, a re-affirmation of the attitude of the United States as expressed to Mexico in previous correspondence, indicating a disposition not to interfere in Mexican affairs but re-asserting a determination to keep United States forces in positions where they might speedily be used for protection of American citizens. There was an impression at the white house that the reply might not be sent tonight, if at all.
Consider Neutral Zone.
At midnight the cabinet meeting still was in session with no outward sign of breaking up. Despatches from Mexico City that both sides were considering a neutral zone for the American embassy and proposed to remove non-combatants during an armistice were taken as an argument in favor of maintaining the government's attitude of "hands off" for the present at least.

Troops Ready to Move.
A troop movement from Galveston probably would be made by commercial steamers, which the war department may have at a few hours notice, according to arrangements which have been in force for some time.

The drafts would be made from the army posts in the border territory at which troops have been on marching orders for months. The troops available for quick movement are Thirtieth Cavalry, El Paso, Second Cavalry, First Battalion Eighteenth Infantry and the Twenty-Second Infantry, Fort Bliss; one troop Third Cavalry at Sierra Blanca and one troop at Shafter, Texas; one troop Fourteenth Cavalry, Fort Clark, one troop Fourteenth Cavalry, Eagle Pass, one squadron, Fourteenth Cavalry, Fort McIntosh, several troops Third Cavalry and two battalions of the Third Field Artillery, Fort Sam Houston. In posts in Arizona, New Mexico, Kansas, Wyoming and Oklahoma are several regiments of infantry and field artillery.

In addition to this force there are available at the Guantanamo naval station 2,500 to 3,000 marines which could be transported to Mexican ports within seventy hours. Ten battleships of the Atlantic fleet also they could land approximately 9,000 bluejackets in the Atlantic ports of Mexico in a like time.

Appeals to Taft.
President Madero appealed today by telegram to President Taft asking him to withhold intervention by the United States pending the attempt to put down the Diaz revolt. Secretary Knox has been instructed to draft this government's reply which will point out the necessity for protection to Americans and other foreigners in Mexico if interference is to be prevented.

Diplomats May Confer.
Ambassador Wilson has invited the British, German, and Spanish ministers and the French charge to confer with him at the American embassy on the situation raised by President Madero's refusal to resign. The diplomats are in accord with Mr. Wilson, but consultation has been difficult because of danger from the combatants' bullets.

Go Over Plans Again.
The cabinet meeting followed a conference between President Taft, Secretary Stimson and Brig. Gen. Crozier, president of the army war college, who were called into conference to once again go over the plans that would be put into effect in case intervention became necessary. If the army is to be sent into Mexico the transports will be

WILSON IS BACKED IN EFFORTS BY U. S.

Ambassadors Efforts to Secure Safety for Americans is Encouraged

REVOLT IS EXPENSIVE

Revolution Has Involved the United States in a Great Deal of Expense

NO INDICATIONS OF PEACE

WASHINGTON, FEB. 15.—The Diaz revolution in Mexico has now dragged out a full week, has resulted in great loss of life and enormous damage to property; has involved the United States in a great deal of expense through the dispatch of warships to southern waters, for the purchase of large quantities of supplies for troops and commissioning of transports. Yet officials were ready to confess today that peace seemed no nearer than it did last Sunday night. Military men believed that if Diaz had pressed his advantage that day instead of entrenching himself in the arsenal, he would have prevailed before dawn Monday. Today was one of rumors and speculations and the state department officials were kept busy denying that the administration had changed its policy regarding Mexico, and was about to intervene.

With a degree of freedom quite undiplomatic the reports of Ambassador Wilson and the American consuls in Mexico even including caustic comment upon the conduct of the war, were given publicity, so that it is probable that if congress should adopt any of the pending resolutions calling for the official correspondence regarding the Mexican revolution, there would be little to add to what already has been given to the press by the state department.

Americans Still in Danger Zone.
Ambassador Wilson is being sustained and encouraged in his efforts to remove Americans and foreigners generally from the danger zone in the Mexican capital, and if need be the draft of $10,000 already made in his favor will receive additions. The state department has not commented upon Mr. Wilson's declaration to accept the invitation of President Madero to transfer the American embassy to other and safer quarters. But it is well understood that should it become absolutely necessary to include the American embassy in the theater of war, and the military emergency arises demanding vacation of the premises, the ambassador must yield and remove his embassy.

Today closed with officials here anxiously awaiting an outcome of the efforts to terminate the week-long battle. Through the good offices of Senor de la Barra, and the Spanish minister, foreign batteries established near the British legation have been removed.

Troops Form Small Squads.
Ambassador Wilson reports that in all parts of Mexico the government troops are said to be breaking up into small squads. He says it is not known whether this means the collapse of the federal army or some change in policy which is not clear.

Looting and bloodshed have sent terror into the Chinese section of the city where several Chinese are reported to have been killed. Lawlessness increases and looting is widespread.

The loyalty of large numbers of federal troops continues to be questioned and General Blanquette and his command are suspected of leaning toward Diaz. A large force of rurales have not declared whether they are for the federal or the rebel cause.

WEBB MAKES GENERAL DENIAL OF GUILT
Alleged Auto Bandit and Slayer of Detective Hart Denies Everything.

Chicago, Feb. 15.—Teddy Webb, the alleged bandit, today denied that he shot Policeman Hart and added a general denial of his guilt of the many robberies attributed to him. He was subjected to a prolonged examination late in the day by police and State's Attorney Maclay Hoyne, but did not waiver. He admitted having taken a minor part in four robberies not known to the police. Mr. Hoyne said after the examination that he thought Webb was upheld by bravado and that he soon would confess.

MEDIATORS MAKE NO SETTLEMENT

RAILROADS AND FIREMEN ARE NO NEARER AGREEMENT

Federal Mediators are Now Trying to Solve a Process of Arbitration Which Will Be Acceptable to Both Sides.

NEW YORK, FEB. 15.—The railroads need a strike in their business to embarrass Woodrow Wilson, and for other reasons, and I am afraid they are going to get it," declared W. S. Carter, president of the Brotherhood of railway firemen and engineers tonight.
Mr. Carter made this statement in a talk with the newspaper representatives at the close of a long conference with his associates who with the president of the organization have been handling the firemen's side of the dispute with the eastern railroads over demands for higher pay and revised working conditions.

Notwithstanding Mr. Carter's statement the lack of any further proposition from the roads and indications that issuance of a strike order already prepared by the firemen's leaders might be imminent, definite assurance was given by the head of the firemen's organization that no action would be taken tonight or as long as the federal mediators were on the scene. This meant postponement of any definite break in the negotiations for at least 36 hours.

Judge Martin A. Knapp of the United States commerce court, one of the two federal officials engaged in trying to arrange a peace between the roads and the men, left this afternoon for Washington on other business to remain until Monday but G. W. W. Hanger, acting United States labor commissioner, remained in the city to act as intermediary between the firemen's committee and the railroads conference committee of managers. Mr. Hanger did not share President Carter's apparent pessimism, he did not consider the situation hopeless he indicated and said the mediators now are trying to solve a process of arbitration acceptable to both sides. He expected no developments until Judge Knapp returns.

CHICAGO CROOKS HAVE EASY TIME

Municipal Judge Declares That Almost Any Crook in City Could Escape Punishment.

Chicago, Feb. 15.—Harry Riley, a Chicago pick-pocket, has been active in his chosen calling for the last 12 years with almost complete immunity from the law. During that time he has been arrested 14 times and found guilty five times, but has never been inside of a jail, and his total expenses in fines have amounted to but $116.

Riley's record was made public here today by Municipal Judge Gammett who in a recent attack on the administration of justice in Chicago, declared that "almost any crook in this city could escape punishment."

Challenged for profit, Judge Gammett to day published Riley's police record as an example, giving the dates and places where he was arrested, sentenced and escaped punishment.

ATTEMPT TO REACH PHILADELPHIA

Subgrantee "Army" Spent Night in Burlington, N. J., and Will Inevitably Reach Philadelphia Today.

Burlington, N. J., Feb. 15.—Instead of crossing the Delaware at Trenton and invading Pennsylvania, the "On to Washington" army of suffragettes, under the leadership of "General" Rosalie Jones, today hiked down the Jersey shore of the river and spent the night in Burlington. It was a hard, weary grind of eighteen miles over alternately hard roads and highways almost ankle deep with mud.

Tired of body but stout of heart, the members of the army retired early tonight for the Sabbath tomorrow will bring them to rest, as they have decided to march all day tomorrow and invade Pennsylvania by way of Philadelphia late Sunday afternoon.

Thirty hundred persons greeted the army as it entered Burlington and marched to the auditorium theatre in front of which "Votes For Women" speeches were made.

HONOR CANNON AT FAREWELL FEAST

Host of Politicians and Personal Friends of Former Speaker Banquet

ABOUT 500 PRESENT

Program Abounded in Novel Features and Was a Tribute of Affection to Aged Statesman

GIVES ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

WASHINGTON, FEB. 15.—President Taft, cabinet officials, Chief Justice White, members of both houses of congress, past, present and prospective and a host of other political and personal friends of Representative Joseph G. Cannon of Illinois, former speaker of the house, featured the program and guest list of the farewell dinner to him tonight.

Plans had been made for about 500 guests. It was a feast of fun and a tribute of affection. The program abounded with novel features, merrily announced by the toastmaster, Representative J. Hamilton Moore of Pennsylvania. The dinner was the culmination of plans laid many weeks ago to make it one of the most notable banquets ever held in Washington. The scheduled speakers included the president, Chief Justice White, Speaker Clark, Representative Underwood of Alabama, the Democratic leader of the house, Secretary Nagel, Postmaster General Hitchcock, Senators Root, Williams, of Mississippi, Penrose of Pennsylvania, Representatives McCall of Massachusetts, McKinley, of Illinois, former Secretary of the Navy H. A. Herbert, former Representatives Tawney of Minnesota and Grosvenor of Ohio, Senator-elect James and the former speaker.

Political Tribute.
When the guests assembled they found at each plate a souvenir program with a poetical tribute, unsigned but written by Representative Moore. It read:
"The storms may come, the winds may howl, the saplings and the pines may fall; but tempered to the sun and the snow the sturdy oak survives them all. And so in legislative halls where men and measures come and go on fame's enduring record calls, the honor rests with Uncle Joe."

On the reverse beneath the curling smoke of a pictured cigar, ran this quatrain:
"You may break, you may shatter, the rules if you will; but the Cannon army will hang to them still."

Reporters burling members of the house from the viewpoint of the press gallery was contributed by the newspapermen at the capitol who attended almost in a body. In this stunt a cub reporter asked a variety of questions regarding the personalities of statesmen and near statesmen, and the replies he received from the six correspondents who joined with him in the east were "hits" on the whims and ideas of various public men.

"Who's that fellow down there that looks like Alexander Hamilton?" asked the cub.
"That's Jeff Leff. He's just hocked his $30,000 overcoat to Martin Littleton to life the mortgage on Monticello," was the reply.

And so the skit proceeded with E. O. Snyder in the role of our cub reporter and E. B. Clark, R. H. Patchin, George Miller, Oswald F. Schutte, Gus J. Karger and Theodore Tiler as the correspondents. Other features of the banquet program were moving pictures of the seven ages of Cannon, presented by Harry L. West, a former reported for some years a District of Columbia commissioner. Lightning cartoon exhibitions by Clifford K. Berryman of Washington and C. B. McCauley of New York, a parody when the "Chu-chu leaves for Illinois" by H. C. Stevens, a newspaper correspondent. Presentation of a bust of Mr. Cannon as the gift to him of colleagues in the house, with Representative Bartholdt of Missouri as their spokesman, songs of the Gridiron club quartet and the "water million song" by Major A. J. Stoffer.

Mr. Cannon's speech in acknowledgment of the farewell tribute was reserved until almost midnight.

WILL APPEAL FROM JUDGE WARD'S DECISION.

Washington, Feb. 15.—Secretary Nagel to day indicated he probably would appeal from Judge Ward's decision overruling his order for the deportation of Cipriano Castro. He has ten days in which to decide. Officials here maintained that it was within the secretary's power to issue a warrant for the arrest of the Venezuelan and deport him as being illegally in the United States. Mr. Nagel was disposed to resort to appeal proceedings however.

MADERO DEFIES SENATE AND IGNORES COUNSEL OF FRIENDS AND ADVISERS

Mexican President Becomes Fixed in His Determination to Retain the Reins of Power and all Efforts to Force His Resignation Appear Futile—Senate's Manifesto is Expected to be Issued Today—Senate Lacks Authority to Force Madero's Withdrawal.

MEXICO CITY, MEXICO, FEB. 15.—While the federal guns pounded the Diaz fortifications in the arsenal, and the rebels sent back shell for shell, the senate sat today and discussed the continuing of Madero from the presidency.

Confidence of ultimately defeating Diaz, Madero defied the senate and ignored the counsel of Francisco de la Barra and other friends. He absolutely refused to resign but did not take the trouble to make known his decision personally to the senate. The fighting in the streets at times today was as savage as on any other day of the week's battle.

Wilson Has Narrow Escape.
The American embassy again came directly within the line of fire and the American ambassador, Henry Lane Wilson, had a narrow escape from a rifle bullet which whistled close to his head within the embassy. Shortly before five o'clock the German legation was struck by a shell.

There were numerous casualties among non-combatants. A strange fatality seems to have followed R. M. Meredith, of Troy, Ohio. He was slightly wounded two days ago while passing through the streets. Today a shell crashed into Porters hotel and killed him. Sidney Sutherland, correspondent of a Salt Lake City newspaper but a resident of Mexico City was wounded by the shelling.

Determines to Hold Power
The situation in Mexico City apart from its terrifying aspect is a remarkable one. Friends of President Madero fully expected his resignation but as the day wore along, he became fixed in his determination to retain the reins of power. To the Spanish minister he said:
"I will not resign. I was elected by the people. I am the constituted president. I will die before I resign."

And amid all the confusions and alarms at five o'clock the Mexican government applied the censorship to all despatches and cable message. This will necessarily vastly increase the difficulties of informing the outside world of the operations within the Mexican capital and will effectually suppress incoming despatches regarding conditions in other parts of the republic.

During the night messengers went about the city locating senators and asking them to attend a special session in order to discuss the situation and attempt a solution of what is recognized by almost all Mexicans as critical.

Senators Meet.
More than a quorum of senators was present at the meeting which took place in the chamber of deputies instead of in the senate chamber at the national palace. The discussion lasted a long time and a great crowd surrounded the building. The scene was almost identical with that when congress met to consider the advisability of bringing about the resignation of President Diaz. In one material respect it differed. There were no mounted police or soldiers drawn across the streets and it was only after a considerable time that a detachment of rurales, spared from the fighting line appeared and dispersed the curious. This required little effort. Overawed by the incidents of the last week, the hundreds moved quickly away from the building, behind the closed doors of which the senators were frankly admitting the imminent danger of intervention, if the conflict in the capital continued.

Get Little Satisfaction.
A resolution was adopted that a committee of the whole wait upon the president at the palace. Twenty senators proceeded there, including the president of the senate but were given little satisfaction. They were informed that Madero was not in and it was intimated that he was on the firing line with General Huerta. Only a few minutes before, however, Madero had been in conference with the Spanish minister to whom he made his declaration of defiance to the rebels.

Mexican attorneys say the senate has no power to force the president to resign. Joint action of the two houses is practically impossible, because there probably are not enough deputies in the city to make a quorum. It is also considered questionable whether any action of the senate would be valid in view of the proclamation of martial law.

It is expected that the senate's manifesto will be issued tomorrow. The imminent danger of intervention is referred to and the people are urged to exercise their patriotism to the fullest extent in order to avoid such action.

The news of the senate's intention and the failure of Madero to receive the committee was given to the public by Senator Sebastian Camache, a rich and aged Mexican of the old regime, who stood on a street corner and told the people what had been done.
He described the preparations made by the United States for the protection of Americans and other foreigners in view of which the senate had decided to depend upon the patriotism of the people.
Consider Short Truce.
Mexico City, Feb. 15, 8 p. m.—The proposition is under consideration by Madero and his ministers to declare a truce of from 12 to 24 hours. The matter has been referred to General Huerta who has suspended hostilities until 11 o'clock when his answer will be given. In the interim foreigners will be removed from the danger zone. It is also proposed to define a zone about the American embassy which will be respected. Diaz has agreed, provided the federals accept this proposal.
Calls Himself President.
El Paso, Texas, Feb. 15.—Emilio Vasquez Gomez, recently released on bond at San Antonio, Texas, today crossed the border at Columbus, N. M., and proclaimed himself president of Mexico.
It is reported that Gomez was met below the line by a band of rebels led by Col. David de la Fuente, General Salazar, chief of staff, who always has been a Vasquezista, as the followers of Gomez are called. Emilio Vasquez Gomez and his brother, Dr. Francisco Vasquez Gomez, played prominent parts in the Madero revolution. Emilio was a member of the de la Barra provisional cabinet.
During Orozco's occupancy of Juarez, during the Orozco revolt, Emilio came to Juarez to become provisional president, but was put in jail by Orozco. The estrangement of the two rebel leaders has never been explained. Later Gomez was released and came to the United States where he was arrested on charges of neutrality violation. Recently he was released on bond at San Antonio and until today his whereabouts have since been unknown.
In telegrams sent here today, Gomez said that he will appoint his cabinet at once, declaring himself provisional president of Mexico by virtue of the plan of San Luis Potosi, which was reformed at Tacubaya and Ayula. The Tacubaya amendment to the original program of Francisco I. Madero, Jr., proclaimed Gomez president and was accepted at the time by the rebel generals Orozco and Zapata. The Vasquezistas assert that this stand of the rebels for Gomez has not been altered since, and that now they will rally to his call. The difficulty with Orozco, it is pointed out will not matter now, as Orozco has disappeared. Salazar is the acting commander-in-chief of the northern rebels. It is conceded that the influence of Col. de la Fuente will be sufficient to bring Salazar and Gomez to a satisfactory understanding.
Rebels Take Nuevo Laredo.
Laredo, Texas, Feb. 15.—Nuevo Laredo, Mexico, was captured by the rebels this afternoon without a shot being fired, without harm to any citizen and with inconvenience to the city.
Col. Pascual Orozco, Sr., father of the rebel leader of northern Mexico rode in an automobile to the federal garrison at the head of a small party of revolutionists, the garrison of 200 men formally swore allegiance to the revolutionists with Andras Garza Galan, who figured prominently in connection with the Reyes revolt of last year, in command.
The municipal offices and customs houses were taken in charge and the chief of police and other city officials imprisoned. The local branch of the national bank of Mexico was also taken over but there was no pillaging. Saloons were closed and tonight everything is quiet. Twenty Americans were given safe escort across the border.
Troops From Monterey.
It is stated on information gained from federal telegraph sources that General Trevano, commander of the Mexican army in the northern states has despatched troops from Monterey with orders to retake Nuevo Laredo, which was surrendered today to a small rebel band.
Passenger Train Held Up.
A passenger train due in Laredo at 8 o'clock was held up by a band of rebels at La Jarita station, 18 miles south of the border tonight.
The taking of Nuevo Laredo today is but a step of the revolutionary program in the northern states, according to Col. Orozco and Andras Garza Galan.
"We are going to continue our operations until the overthrow of the present administration is effected," Orozco said tonight. The rebel forces in Chihuahua are unanimous.

BRYCE TALKS ON SELECTION OF JUDGES

British Ambassador Discusses Methods of Selecting State Judges.

New York, Feb. 15.—James Bryce British ambassador to the United States suggests to the New York County Bar association tonight that appointment by the governor and appointment by popular vote were not the only methods to be considered for the selection of state judges. Much of Ambassador Bryce's address at the association's annual dinner was devoted to this subject, but account of its political nature he disclaim any desire to discuss the question of "judicial recall."

Agitation for the recall of the judges, he said, had sprung from dissatisfaction in some states with present methods of appointment. It was desirable he continued that the judges should enjoy the full confidence of the people and the methods of popular election had been adopted to obtain that subject. But was it always possible for the mass of people to have a real knowledge of who the fittest men were for public office? And if the people were not able themselves to judge, might it not be that the popular vote was really not a expression of the selection by the people themselves but really not a expression who had a personal or political interest in directing the popular vote to candidates who might not be really the best men for judicial office.

The system of appointment by the governor or by the state legislature he said, was deemed to work weedy in some states where it had been continued from old times; but he was told there was no likelihood that would be in states where it did now exist.

Mr. Bryce declared that among ties that bound the United States to Great Britain few were stronger than the joint possession of the old common law of England. The common law, he said, was as much American as English.

Invention Makes Possible Use of Morse System on Sub-Marine Cables.

New York, Feb. 15.—The Mackay companies announced today the completion of an invention that is intended revolutionize the system of transmission of messages by submarine cables. Under the new system it was announced it will be possible to send a message from San Francisco to London by aid of land circuits.

In explanation of the Gott device the Mackay statement said:

"Mr. Gott's invention makes the cable service as flexible as the land service. It links up cables on land lines or both or alternates cables and land lines and works them from any point of origin to any point of destination between the most distant parts of the world."

People Are Educated to Know and Demand

QUALITY GROCERIES

People in the present day know more about quality in food products than at any time since the world began. They are better judges of quality and have a keener appreciation of the importance of eating good, pure food products.

More cheapness isn't anything like so forceful an argument with the American public as it was a decade ago.

Most people nowadays appreciate the fact that the best is the cheapest in the long run, and so they demand reliable goods, goods pure, fresh, packed by dependable concerns, and sold with the backing of houses which are known for honorableness of their methods.

Now then, where are such goods always obtainable. The answer of course is, at ROBERTS' BROS. We keep a QUALITY market, hence it pays to buy your GROCERIES and DRUGS here, where you can select from the biggest, freshest, most complete assortments of Groceries and Drugs to be found in any city in the United States.

Need any more be said? We think not.

Manager Hunt announces the great Biblical picture, "From the Manger to the Cross," for tomorrow night and Tuesday. In preparation for these wonderful films the Kalem company sent a cast of forty-two specially selected players to Palestine and Egypt, there to familiarize themselves with the country and the scenery made sacred through the life of Christ. The actors studied copies of the great Tisot pictures and read Bible commentaries that they might present a faithful picture of the Great Life.

BASKETBALL TOURNAMENT WILL BE HELD FEB. 28, MARCH 1

Athletic Board of High School Will Meet This Week to Perfect Plans For Two Days Meet—List of Schools Entered.

Prospects for a splendid basketball tournament are growing brighter as the days for the meet approach, Feb. 28, March 1. Already a large number of schools have written Principal Gore that they will enter a team and this week a meeting of the Athletic Board will be held for the purpose of working out the details of the tournament.

As has been stated before each team, in order to enter, must make a deposit of $2.00 as a guarantee of good faith that they will come. This $2.00 is refunded after the tournament ends. Jacksonville has also agreed that all the expenses of each team will be met while the team is in the city. While it is not promised each visiting team that railroad expenses will be fully met, if the attendance is anything near what the local management expects it to be there will be enough funds in the treasury to meet this expense.

The following are the schools that have sent word they will be represented: Pittsfield, Griggsville, Greenfield, Manchester, White Hall, Chandler, Petersburg and Arenzville.

RICHELIEU BRAND
Pure Food Products

These foods have gained their pre-eminence in the minds of the people by reason of the fact that they give more than might be demanded or expected. As it is the man who gives a little more than is expected of him in service or labor who forges ahead, so it is with foods. Those which always exceed expectations invariably make good. Carrying the reasoning a little farther, the merchant who sells the foods which more than equal expectations always succeeds.

BEAUTIFUL HOME WEDDING TAKES PLACE AT ABINGDON

Mr. Fred Mather of This City Weds
Miss Pearl Attig, a Graduate of the School for the Deaf.

Mr. Fred Mather of this city and Miss Pearl Attig were recently married at the home of the bride in Abingdon. The Galesburg Republican-Register gives the following account of the marriage:

"A beautiful home wedding occurred last evening at the home of Mr.
and Mrs. Elmore Attig on North Main street when their only daughter, Pearl, was given in marriage to Fred Mather.

"Preceding the ceremony Miss Winogene Whitsitt sang in her usual
winning manner "At Dawning," after which Miss Mary McDermet played the wedding march from Lohengrin, to the strains of which the bride and groom attended by Miss Nellie McComb of Jacksonville as bridesmaid, and Edgar Mather of Jacksonville, brother of the groom,
as best man, made their appearance.
They were preceded by Dr. W. S.
Welsh and Master George Cottingham of Galesburg, who carried the ring in the petals of a rose. The bridal party descended the stairs and took their places in the parlor at an altar in front of a bank of ferns and potted plants and directly under a canopy of wedding bells entwined
with smilax and white roses.

"Here the beautiful ring ceremony was performed by Dr. Welsh who was assisted by Philip Read of Jacksonville, as interpreter.

"The house was attractively decorated in the bride's colors, green and white, wedding bells and smilax being used effectively.

"The bride was charmingly gowned
in white satin, draped with embroidered chiffon with exquisite pearl trimmings.

"Mrs. Mather is the bright and cultured daughter of Mr. and Mrs.
Attig of this city, and received her education at the School for the Deaf
in Jacksonville, Ill., where she graduated with high honors with the class of 1912.

"The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Mather of Jacksonville, and is a graduate of the Jacksonville
School for Deaf. He has been employed for some time in Abingdon
in the Moloney barber shop, and has won the esteem of every one since coming to the city. Both Mr. and Mrs. Mather possess many excellent qualities and have won many friends
here, who extend to them the heartiest congratulations.

"After congratulations were offered
the guests repaired to the dining room, where an elegant four course repast was served. The color scheme was carried out in the dining room decorations, the bride's table being especially pretty with green and white streamers extending from a large bell to the corners of the table.

"Mr and Mrs. Mather received many handsome and useful gifts,
which include silverware, cut glass
and furniture. They left at midnight for Galesburg, where they will spend a few days with friends, after which they will return to Abingdon
to make their home.

"Among out-of-town guests were
Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Mather, Mr. and Mrs. F. P. Dunn, Messrs. Beesie
Mather, Nina Fee and Nellie Macomb, Messrs. Edgar and Harry Mather and J. Philip Read, all of Jacksonville."

ly for the temporary placing in the executive position of General Tre-

can state also that we firmly believe this to be the ambition of Felix Diaz. We do not center on General
Trevano as the only available man, however. Any man who could be willing to harmonize and bring about order throughout the country
would be to our liking, Emilio Del

border tonight and presented themselves to the Mexican consul here.
They refused to be pressed into ser-

Gov. Colquitt Wants Troops.
Austin, Texas, Feb. 15.—Governor
Colquitt of Texas, sent a telegram tonight to President Taft urging that United States troops in sufficient number be sent to Laredo and Brownsville, Texas, to protect that section of the border against Mexican bands that might cross the boundary bent on looting. In the event of federal troops are not ordered to border the governor asserts he will establish a militia patrol along the Rio Grande.

It was also learned tonight that
Gov. Colquitt appealed to President Taft three days ago to intervene in Mexico. In reply a despatch from Secretary Knox to the governor stated that events up to that time were not considered as warranting alteration in the "hands off" policy maintained by the government.

AMBASSADORS MAKE NO PROGRESS

Widely Divergent Views of Austria-
Hungary and Russia Are Not Easily Reconciled.

London, Feb. 15.—The danger of a rupture among the great European powers over the Balkan imbroglio has not yet passed. No progress is being made by the ambassadors at their conferences toward reconciling
the widely divergent views of Austria-Hungary and Russia regarding the boundaries of Albania. Present indications seem to point to an early abandonment of the ambassadorial
attempt to bring the two powers on the same platform.

Difficult and serious is the description of the situation given in diplomatic quarters in London today.
Montenegro has further inflamed
matters by making another appeal for Russian support. This latest appeal closes with the words "Scu-tari or death."

Austria-Hungary continues resolu-
tely to refuse to consider the severance
of Scutari from Albania.

No date has been sent for the next meeting of the ambassadors as no immediate means of dissolving
the deadlock is apparent.

SEEK TO FIND ORIGIN OF CANCER

Experiments Show Cancer to Be Due to Presence of Minute Worms.

Berlin, Feb. 15.—The results of experiments to find the origin of cancer were published today by Prof.
Johannes Fibiger, director of the Pathological Institute at Copenhagen. His researches show that cancerous growths in the esophagus
and stomachs of rodents were due to the presence in the alimentary
tract of minute worms, an indeterminate number of which are
from the common kitchen cockroach.
Prof. Fibiger succeeded in producing cancer by feeding the parasite
eggs of cockroaches to rats.

The experiments are considered of great importance to seekers for a cure of cancer, as they form the first experimental production of the disease.

LUTHELMAN BROS.

TOMMY MURPHY TO MEET WOLGAST

MICHIGAN BOY IS SUBSTITUTED
FOR MANDOT FOR WASHINGTON
BIRTHDAY BOUT.

If Ad Gets in Condition the Frisco
Fans Will See a Battle Royal—Britton-McFarland Fight is Called off Indefinitely, Hitt Said to Be Over Money Matters.—Willie
Ritchie Now in New York.

By James J. Corbett, (Former Heavyweight Champion of the World).

Written for Jacksonville Journal.
After a long period of patient waiting—more than three years—
"Harlem Tommy" Murphy is at last
to have another crack at Ad Wolgast. In September, 1909, about six months before Wolgast won the light-weight title from Bat Nelson,
these boys met in a short bout in Pittsburgh, and Tommy gave Ad a fine little trimming.

When Wolgast won the championship Murphy was one of the first to challenge him, but apparently Ad
had not forgotten the Pittsburgh meeting and its result. At any rate he positively refused to box Tommy and turned down all offers for a return match.

Murphy had given up all hope of ever getting another match with Wolgast and after Willie Ritchie had taken the Michigan boy's title away,
abandoned his efforts in that direction. But now a turn of the wheel is to bring the ancient enemies together again. The old saying that
"it's an ill wind that blows no good"
fits in nicely here.

Tommy was to have boxed twenty rounds with Joe Mandot on Washington's birthday, but the latter's illness cancelled the match. Jim Coffroth, the promoter in the hunt
for a suitable opponent for Murphy
cast his eagle eye in Wolgast's direction and after much persuasion and the offer of a nice fat guarantee secured the ex-champion's consent to take Mandot's place.

If Ad is in good shape the battle should be a corker. There are a few critics who think Ad is "done,"
but a careful review of the Ritchie fight round by round, fails to suggest that he has gone back to any extent. Up to the seventeenth round of that battle Wolgast had a shade
on Ritchie and while he showed signs of weariness after taking that punch on the jaw in the last round
several experts who saw the battle
tell me that he was nowhere near
a licked man, and also that the referee in declaring Ad a loser on a foul made a grievous mistake.

Murphy will be "good"; there is little doubt of that. He thrives on California "climate" and has put up the best fights of his long career in the western country. He feels that he has the "Indian sign" on Wolgast
and will go into the ring chock full of confidence. Coffroth and San Francisco sports are to be congratulated on landing this bout for the world's air city.

If Wolgast defeats Murphy it is possible that he may come east for a ten round bout with Packey Mc-Farland. The boys were matched to box here last summer, but opposition developed from an unexpected
quarter and it was thought advisable
for the good of the sport to abandon the plans for the time being. Mc-Farland would welcome the chance to box Wolgast and is willing to make a lower weight for the ex-champion than for Britton or any other opponent. In the event of Ad's success in next Saturday's mill the chances are that the match will be arranged.

Meanwhile the sports are "guessing" about the proposed McFarland-Britton bout. One day the match is on and the next day it's off. The fact remains that neither boxer has yet signed the articles of agreement,
although the garden's press agent
has given out March 7 as the date assigned for the contest.

The hitch is said to be over money matters. McFarland is holding out for a certain guarantee and Britton wants a greater percentage than that offered him. It is thought that a rival promoter has been flitting with the men and that they are using this club to force the garden management to raise the bid. Both boys realize that they can draw a great deal more money at the garden and the probability is the match will eventually be pulled off there, but not until they have exhausted every effort to get all the "dough" that finds its way to the box office.

It is hoped that McFarland and Britton come to terms before long.
The match is the only really important light-weight event in sight
for the immediate future, and New Yorkers are hungry for something worth while in the boxing line. The programs have been sadly lacking in first-class material the past winter,
and local promoters are having a hard time arranging suitable attractions owing to the dearth of classy talent in this locality.

While Ritchie is due to arrive in Gotham before long. When the champion alights in the big town he will find the latch strings out and welcome signs on the door mats of the promoters. The fight impresarios have found out, and at no small cost, that the sports have had an "elegant sufficiency," as Joe Humphries puts it, of mediocre talent. Attendance at bouts has been so poor recently that several club
owners have quit and one or two others are said to be "on the ropes." The expenses attached to the operation of a boxing club in New York
are very heavy and since the fight fans have made it clear that they want first-class entertainments in return for their money, the promoters
are at last beginning to show
symptoms of a willingness to "loosen up."

Ritchie could not have chosen a more propitious time to visit New York, and if he is not averse to taking on some good boy during his stay, he will find the promoters
more than ready to meet him half way. There will be sharp competition for his services and no doubt Manager Billy Nolan will be able to drive a bargain that will maintain his well-known reputation for shrewdness and financial astuteness.

Billy Papke has deserted us and
by this time should be safely ensconced in his training quarters in a Paris suburb putting in some hard licks in preparation for his coming fight with Frank Klaus for the middle-weight championship of Europe on March 5. Before Billy sailed he put us "hep" to the true state of affairs in the ranks of the middleweights, and take it from William,
there is no mystery concerning the perfectly legitimate and lawful owner of the championship. The name of the "gent" is Papke.

Billy contends the title reverted to him as a previous holder upon the death of Stanley Ketchel. Righto, Billy, but how about the twenty round bout with Cyclone Johnny Thompson in Australia in which the referee gave the decision to Thompson? And still later the twelve round mix with Bob Moha over Boston way and which was awarded to Moha.

As for Eddie McGoorty's claim,
Papke can't see it with a microscope.
He says Eddie's reputation has been made over the short, no-decision
route and that he never beat a good man in a long bout. Nevertheless, a business in Winnipeg.

Papke "allows" that Klaus is the best of all the "runners up," and adds that he confidently expects to beat Frank when they clash early next month. After that Billy will be prepared to meet all comers, Mc-Goorty preferred. But the fight must take place in France and over the long distance.

Paris is certainly an El Dorado
for American boxers. Papke is guaranteed $5,000 to box Klaus, and is given the privilege of percentage
which he estimates will net him about $10,000. As Klaus is every-bit as popular with the French sports it is likely he has been declared in on about the same terms.
So it will be seen that the "Gay City" must be fought mad when its promoters can afford to guarantee
large sums for a contest between two foreign boxers.

When is the clever Mike Gibbons
to resume his ring career? Too good a boxer, this St. Paul lad, to be permitted to desert the game at this time when skill is at a premium.
New York sports would gladly welcome the speedy Mike's return, and turn out in goodly numbers for the privilege of watching him box with a worthy opponent.

There has been some talk in the local papers of Gibbons coming here next month to box Young Kurtz,
a local welter, but a very ordinary
one. I doubt it very much. A match of the sort would not appeal to fight
followers and a victory for Gibbons
would do him little credit.

It is said that Mike intends to stick to the welter-weight division in the future. There are several good boys in that class, among them
Clarence Ferns, Ray Bronson, Hillard Lang and "Spike" Kelly, a recent Chicago development, any one of whom could put up a much better fight than Kurtz, who would be a joke in Gibbons' hands. Promoters will make a big mistake promoting such ridiculously unequal matches.

inseparably interwoven with the early history of the woman suffrage
movement in America, was honored
this afternoon in the unveiling of a portrait bust of her at a tea given

Hotel Astor. The bust was made from life in Rome, Italy, by Mrs.
Adelaide Johnson, the sculptor,
when the veteran suffragist was in her prime. Mrs. Ida M. Harper, author of the Life of Susan B. Anthony, unveiled the memorial, and addresses were delivered by Mrs.
Chapman-Catt, president of the International Suffrage Alliance, and
Dr. Anna Howard Shaw, president

MANITOBA'S PREMIER IS 60.

ing congratulations from friends

Manitoba for the past twelve years,
observed his sixtieth birthday anniversary today.

Premier Roblin is an Ontario

claim to be one of the pioneers of the great west. Foreseeing the great development which must take place in western Canada when a transcontinental railway was built, he settled
in Duffin, Manitoba, in early life,

CHATS WITH GREAT MEN OF THE CIVIL WAR

By Mrs. Gen. Pickett

The Great War President—LINCOLN.

Copyright, 1913, by The Press Publishing Co. (The New York Evening World).

I was in Richmond when it was shaking his finger at him playfully, swept by a sea of fire. I saw the flames like blazing banners fluttering against the sky and the stormy bil-lows of smoke surging backward and forward and up and down with the changing of the winds. I saw through the gloom the weird, black faces of the colored troops as they galloped
up the street.

I heard the screams and yells and curses of the rabble, crazed by the liquor which had poured from barrels into the streets and which they drank from the flowing gutters. Adding to the odorous horrors of the scene was the blowing up of the magazine, shivering every mirror and pane of glass in my house.

News of the fate of Five Forks had come to me, and the city was full of rumors that my Soldier was among the killed. I knew he would come back. But, oh! they were anxious hours.

The lay after the fire there was a sharp rap at the door. The servants had all run away. The city was full of northern troops and my environment had not taught me to love them. With my baby in my arm
I answered the knock, opened the door and looked at a tall, gaunt,
sad-faced man in ill-fitting clothes,
who, with the accent of the North asked:

"Is the George Pickett's place?"
"Yes," I said. "This is Gen. Pickett's home, sir, but he is not here."
"I know that marm," he replied,
"but I wanted to see the place. I am Abraham Lincoln."

The stranger shook his head and said: "No harm, no; just Abraham Lincoln, George's old friend."
"I am George Pickett's wife and this is his baby," was all I could say.

The baby reached out his hand
and Mr. Lincoln took him. A look of tenderness almost divine glorified that sad face. I have never seen a look like that on any other face. The baby opened his mouth and insisted upon giving my father's friend a dewy baby kiss. As he handed the little one back to me Mr. Lincoln, height, 6 feet 4 inches, nearly;

lean in flesh, weighing on an average 180 pounds; dark complexion,
with coarse black hair and gray
eyes.

A free-hand sketch like that is easy, but memory fills the outlines with the subtle beauty of soul, the sunny view of life, the deep and tender sympathy, all making up a face of infinite charm which puzzled
artists but revealed itself to a little child, causing it to hold out its lips
to be kissed.

After my soldier's return, bowed
by the bitter sense of loss, the heartbreak of defeat, came the awful news
of Lincoln's death.
"My God! My God!" he exclaimed. "The South has lost her best friend and protector now in the hour
of need!"

NOTICE

To Farmers and Stock Raisers

We are now manufacturing under State License, the best Brand of hog food on market known as "SURE FATTEN HOG FOOD".
It is far superior to any Brand of Hog food on the market to day.
It is guaranteed under the Pure Food and Drugs Act, June 30th, 1906, Serial No. 47,673. Guaranteed analysis as follows:

Crude Fat 10.00 to 14 per cent
Crude Protein 52.50 to 60 per cent
Crude Fibre 1.00 to 3 per cent
Phosphate 10.00 to 12 per cent

What Is

"Sure Fatten Hog Food"

It is a dark colored granular meal, made from meat residues,
and it supplies the protein and phosphates necessary for compounding a balanced ration in most economical and palatable form.

It contains phosphates in proper proportion to insure strength of bone and frame work. In the corn belt bone development is a matter of serious consideration.

It is not a substitute for corn, but a small quantity fed in connection with corn or other grains gives a balanced ration.

It is the most economical source of digestible protein known, containing twice as much protein as oil meal and five times as much as middlings, shorts, shipstuf, or alfalfa meal.

TANKAGE is recommended by all leading experiment stations.

It is packed in one-hundred-pound Burlap sack, plainly marked "SURE FATTEN HOG FOOD," analysis as above.
It is the ideal feed to balance rations.

What "Sure Fatten Hog Food"

Tankage Does.

It develops bone and muscle in young pigs and makes them grow. It matures a hog for market in two and three months quicker than corn alone, thereby, saving one third of the feed bill, one third of the labor, one third of the risk, increasing profits one third.

It grows better proportioned hogs, more meat, a d more fat,
hence market-topper hogs. SURE FATTEN HOG FOOD TANK-
AGE fed hogs ship well with small shrink.

While in nowise a medicine, it so fortifies and strengthens the system against attacks of disease germs that SURE FATTEN HOG FOOD TANKAGE fed hogs are universally healthy hogs.

NEW YORK BUILDS HIGH SCHOOL

Structure Has Every Modern Innovation and Costs $250,000—Capacity 6,000 Students.

New York city has completed the erection of a new high school at a cost of $250,000, which the New York Herald designates the finest public school building ever erected. It is an eight story structure, occupying a half a block of ground. The description will be of more than ordinary interest because of the contemplated building of a similar school in Bloomington.

The New York school will accommodate 5,900 pupils and 228 instructors will be employed. Six high schools in Manhattan will be abandoned and the pupils will be assembled in the new building.

Features in the Structure. Seven room apartment for study of domestic science. Conservatory on the roof for study of botany.

Cages for animals to be borrowed from the New York Zoological park. Fully equipped laundry.

Bookbinding plant. Banking department, completely equipped with furniture, books, adding machines, etc.

Basketball courts on roof. Four gymnasiums, with shower baths.

Seven large rooms for 200 sewing machines. Typewriting class room with 200 typewriting machines.

Class room with department store features for the study of salesmanship. Luncheon room for 700 pupils.

Auditorium with large stage, where 1,550 persons can be seated. Equipment cost $1,000,000.

Teach Modern Housekeeping. Besides the many innovations introduced, every modern appliance and equipment to be found in any part of the world has been obtained for the school.

There are no end of novelties in the school. In the study of modern housekeeping, which will be taught in the domestic science department, is a seven room apartment, fully furnished and apparently ready for occupancy. There is a pantry and kitchen, dining room, living room, bathroom, bedroom, nursery and parlor. Classes of more than a dozen pupils will take turn looking after and caring for the apartment. The place will be put in disorder and the students will have to straighten matters out from putting the house in order to ordering a supply of groceries, meats and provisions for the pantry.

Another interesting department will be a complete institution with everything that is needed to conduct a first class bank. The students will not only be taught the system of banking from the outside, but will earn something of the manner a bank is conducted. With bank books they will carry imaginary accounts from which they will check from time to time.

Like the great buzz and humdrum of a garment working factory will be the seven large sewing rooms, where 200 girls will be taught sewing on as many machines running at the same time. In this department classes will be given two hours instruction every two or three days.

Bookbinding Department. Adjoining the immense library will be installed a bookbinding plant, where the students will be taught bookbinding and "first aid to an injured book." More than 200 typewriting machines will be installed in the rooms where stenography will be studied.

In the department where the study of zoology will be carried on are many cages which will be used to contain the animals which the school will borrow from the New York Zoological park for study. An interesting course, which has been adopted especially for young women who intend to take up department store work after they leave their studies is a business course after the order of the practical work taught beginners in the large department stores. Everything that a young woman taking up a commercial life in a department store is supposed to know will be taught in this branch. There will be cash registers, cash books, inventory blanks and stock balance sheets. The pupils will "go through the motions" of waiting on customers and be taught how to strike bargains and deal with persons of ill tempers.

On the roof there will be a large conservatory with growing plants and flowers, where the students can study botany. On another part of the roof there will be basketball courts of the modern design. Besides the basketball courts there will be four gymnasiums, with the best equipment, and adjoining will be a series of shower baths. Another feature is a dining room, where 700 students can lunch at the same time. This will open on a large kitchen and food will be served at a nominal price.

Auditorium Will Seat 1,550. The main auditorium in the building is as large as many of the theatres in this city. It seats 1,550 persons and has a large balcony. There is an adequate stage, with scenery and accessories, together with an abscissa and regular drop curtain.

The old fashioned desks have been abolished in the furnishings of the new school. Pupils will occupy chairs at study and sit at a table, two students being allotted to each table. One of the striking features of the entire building is a commodious foyer on the first floor which runs through from Sixteenth to Seventh street. It is finished in enlaid, varnished oak. At one side of the foyer is a large fireplace, said to be a reproduction of the fireplace in the home of Washington Irving.

"The fire of hospitality in the hall; the genial flame of charity in the heart."

Foreign vessels are absolutely excluded from our coastwise trade. Our transportation companies have a complete and long established monopoly of the entire traffic. Nor do the proposed subsidies promise us either cheaper or better service. Under other conditions we might expect to have service and lower rates, but monopolies with rapidly growing business cannot reasonably be expected to cut profits by either reducing prices or improving service. But even though our coastwise transportation trusts should prove to be "good trusts" they could not return the remitted tolls in rates and service.

To obtain exemption from tolls our coastwise vessels must forego all right to participate in a very lucrative "short haul" business. This business is so remunerative that many vessels plying between New York and European ports—as for example the Royal Mail steamers—make a detour to the south to get a share in its profits. I refer, of course to trade with Cuba, Jamaica, Costa Rica, etc. On the Pacific coast with its unrivalled harbors a like trade will soon develop. Exclusion from this foreign trade that lies directly in the course of ships from New York to San Francisco will largely offset the subsidy paid in the guise of toll exemption and make it unreasonable that our coastwise vessels should grant concessions to shippers, equal or even approximately equal, to the tolls remitted.

But conceding that rates might, in time be materially lowered as a result of the toll exemption, would it be just to the country a large to grant free tolls? While it is confidently believed that the construction of the canal will be of great advantage to the entire country the chief benefit will inure to the coast regions. These regions already have an unfair advantage over the interior. Denver pays as much per capita toward the cost of the canal as Los Angeles pays, while Los Angeles will reap a hundred times as much advantage from the toll as Denver will secure. To exempt coast trade from toll will be to increase a disparity in benefits that is already too large. The intercoastal region has entered no protest against being equally taxed for improvements unequally shared; the cost cannot be apportioned according to benefits received. We do not ask that those who dance should pay the piper—they haven't the price but surely they should do the tipping.

I have conceded that Denver will be helped by the building of the canal, but the help will come indirectly through the increased prosperity of the country at large—the direct effect will perhaps be slightly injurious. We want to see the James oak tunnel built, not merely to get a more direct route to the Pacific but to secure our share of transcontinental traffic. But the opening of the canal will diminish that traffic and will consequently reduce the amount that will pass through the Moffat tunnel. Under such conditions it would seem that a Denver man is excusable for lacking enthusiasm in support of free tolls for coastwise ships.

STATISTICS OF CITIES HAVE BEEN MADE PUBLIC

Census Report on Financial Statistics of Cities of Over 30,000 Inhabitants in 1910.

Washington, Feb. 15.—A preliminary statement of a special report on financial statistics of cities of over 30,000 inhabitants in the United States in 1910 was issued to day by Director Durand, of the Bureau of the Census, Department of Commerce and Labor. The statistics were prepared under the direction of LeGrand Powers, chief statistician for Finance and Municipal Statistics.

This report is one of a series of annual reports such as have been issued by the Bureau of the Census, the first one of which presented statistics of cities for the fiscal year 1902. Besides the general tables, it contains an introduction setting forth the scope of the inquiry, defining the various financial and accounting terms employed, and explaining the significance of the data presented. Data are presented for 184 cities of the continental United States. These cities comprise all that were given a population of over 30,000 by the Census of 1910.

The report presents in considerable detail of the receipts, payments, assessed valuation, rates and levies, indebtedness, and values of public properties and public improvements.

The increasing governmental costs of cities and a corresponding increase in revenue receipts is shown in this report by a comparative summary of the revenue receipts and governmental cost payments for 145 cities for the years of 1902 to 1910.

During those years the revenue receipts of the 145 cities increased from $119,819,091 to $177,882,232, an increase of 66.6 per cent, and the payments for permanent public properties and improvements increased from $128,083,343 to $266,244,075, an increase of 107.9 per cent. These increases were greater than the corresponding increase in the population, as evidenced by the increase in the per capita revenue receipts from $20.12 to $27.24, a gain of 35.4 per cent.

The per capita payments for expenses and interest increased from $16.37 to $20.53, an increase of 25.4 per cent, and the per capita payments for permanent public properties and improvements increased from $6.13 to $10.21, an increase from $6.13 per cent.

Revenue Receipts. The revenue receipts of the 184 cities included in the report amounted to $759,942,445, and were from sources and in amounts as follows:

Property, business, and poll taxes $474,520,682
Licenses and permits 59,248,936
Special assessments 66,395,107
Department fees, charges, rents and sales 15,200,254
Fines and forfeits 3,726,687
Escheats 96,623
Subventions and grants 29,078,983
Gifts, donations, and pension contributions 4,340,591
Interest 24,122,329
Rents and privileges 8,904,880
Public service and enterprises 82,197,472

Of the total revenue receipts of the 184 cities, the 18 cities having a population of over 300,000 each received $504,987,016, or 66.5 per cent, and the city of New York alone received $197,779,533 or 26.0 per cent.

The per capita revenue receipts for the 184 cities amounted to $27.82. For the cities of over 300,000 inhabitants they were $33.24, while for the cities of from 30,000 to 50,000 inhabitants they were $18.63. The larger part of such receipts was from property, business, and poll taxes, the per capita being: For all cities, $17.37, and of the two groups of cities above mentioned, $21.54 and $11.58, respectively.

Governmental Cost Payments. The governmental cost payments of the 184 cities amounted to $855,599,192, of which $449,219,789 was for expenses other than of public service enterprises, $29,847,218 for interest, and $379,152,899 for outlays.

The governmental cost payments of the 184 cities exceeded their revenue receipts by $95,656,747, though their revenue receipts exceeded their payments and interest by $183,489,152; from which appears that with slight modification for changes in cash balances at the beginning and close of the year, of the costs of permanent properties acquired and constructed during the year, 65.7 per cent was paid from revenues and 34.3 per cent directly or indirectly from non-revenue receipts.

The gross payments for expenses other than of public service enterprises amounted for the 184 cities to $449,219,789, distributed as follows:

General government $53,402,487
Protection to person and property 111,932,648
Health conservation and sanitation 44,330,456
Highways 54,778,717
Charities, hospitals, and corrections 29,621,797
Education 133,533,812
Recreation 16,108,808
Miscellaneous 5,511,063

The gross payments for expenses of public service enterprises amounted to $34,386,256, of which $25,006,229, or 74.5 per cent, represents the expenses of systems of water supply operated by these cities. Such systems were operated by 138 of the 184 cities.

The per capita governmental cost payments for the 184 cities were $21.32, of which $17.71 was for expenses $3.40 for interest, and $10.22 for outlays. The total for the group of 18 of the larger cities was $37.15 while that of the group of 75 of the smaller cities was $19.66.

Rheumatic Blood is Whole Story

Wonderful Specific for Sciatica, Lumbago, and a Cure for Dreaded Arterial Rheumatism.

There is a host of pills, powders, tablets and what-not for rheumatism, but they all lack the first essential to being a natural medicine. To begin with, rheumatism is simply a name given to designating a variety of pains, and can only be reached by irrigating the entire blood supply with a naturally assimilative antiseptic. True, the pains may be eased with narcotics or the acids may be neutralized for the time being with other acids. But these merely temporize and do not even lead to a cure. There is but one standard rheumatism remedy, and it reflects the best thought of the day. It is prepared in the great Swift Laboratory in Atlanta, Ga., and sold in all drug stores under the name of S. S. S. at $1.00 a bottle.

Starvation has been advocated by many as a cure for rheumatism, and yet S. S. S. accomplishes in fact what faddists proclaim in theory and without the punishment of starvation. Hot springs and sweating are often recommended, but S. S. S. does all that is expressed in these expensive and weakening methods. It is conceded by the closest students of the subject that rheumatism is caused in most cases by an acid condition of the blood and aggravated by the remedies commonly used for relief. In other cases rheumatism is the result of nerve depression; in still others it is the effect of some scrofulous blood condition, having been treated with mercury, iodides, arsenic and other poisonous mineral drugs. The recoveries of all these types of rheumatism by the use of S. S. S. is a wonderful tribute to the natural efficacy of this remarkable medicine, for it is assimilated just as naturally, just as specifically, and just as well ordered as the most acceptable, most palatable and most readily digested food. Do not fail to get a bottle of S. S. S. today. You will be astonished at the results. If your rheumatism is of such a nature that you would like to consult a specialist confidentially, write to The Swift Specific Co., 127 Swift Bldg., Atlanta, Ga.

Which Side of the Fence Are You On?

During the past few years the industrial progress and growth of this country has been nothing short of marvelous. The increase in the population of our large cities has been tremendous. As a consequence, the consuming or non-producing population is increasing much faster than the producing population. This condition has upset the economic ratio of supply to demand, especially in the case of agricultural food products—meat, milk and butter, and prices have gone to an almost unheard of level.

The consumer pays the bills. The producer reaps the benefit. He has the advantage.

If you are a consumer, why don't you turn producer? Instead of letting the high cost of living prove a hardship, why don't you turn it into a real opportunity? If you don't get a good start on the road toward independence, now, while the going is good, you can't blame anybody but yourself. Your Uncle Sam will give you a farm. The rest is up to you.

It won't cost you anything to post up. Let me send you a copy of our Free Government Lands folder. It contains a lot of information that is interesting and valuable, some of which may surprise you.

The ninth annual conference of the national child labor committee will be held in Jacksonville, Fla., March 13-15th, 1913. The general subject, "Child Labor and Poverty" will be discussed in relation to wages, health, unemployment and the family. Many southerners will be among the speakers, and conditions of child employing industries in the south will be described.

PAID TRIBUTE TO MEMORY OF JAMES S. SHERMAN

Services Were Held in Memory of Former Vice-President Sherman at Washington.
Washington, D. C., Feb. 15.—In the presence of an audience that comprised the president and his cabinet, the members of the supreme court of the United States, the foreign diplomatic corps, army and navy stationed in Washington, and scores of invited guests of national fame, the two houses of congress today paid tribute to the memory of Vice-President James S. Sherman. The memorial exercises were held in the hall of representatives.

Every available inch of space in the galleries and on the floor was occupied, and the audience was an immense one. Admission to the capitol was restricted to the holders of tickets. Every member of congress was attired in black. The galleries were bright with the costumes of women, but the only touch of color on the floor was in the uniforms of several high officers of the army and navy.

The services were of a simple but impressive character. The program was opened with a prayer by the chaplain of the house and closed with the benediction by the chaplain of the senate. President Taft delivered one of the addresses of eulogy, and Speaker Clark delivered another. President Taft's address was universally pronounced a splendid eulogy of his former colleague and friend. He delivered it with no effort at oratorical effect; yet, through the three-quarters of an hour that he occupied, he was listened to with breathless silence and strained attention, and when he concluded there was a storm of applause.

President Taft's action in visiting the hall of representatives and delivering an address there was almost without precedent. Not since 1801, when President Jefferson introduced the custom of the presidents sending "a message in writing" instead of making a speech at the opening session, had a president spoken directly to a house of congress.

ARMY REORGANIZATION IN EFFECT.

Washington, D. C., Feb. 15.—The army reorganization plan, which has engaged the attention of the officials of the war department and the general staff for nearly a year, was put into effect today. Some of the changes brought about by the reorganization are of a most momentous character. The territorial organization heretofore existing is discontinued and for military purposes the territory of the United States is organized into four geographical departments, Hawaii and the Philippines constituting two more. The departments are to be known as eastern, central, western and southern departments—with headquarters respectively at Governor's Island, Chicago, San Francisco and San Antonio.

RETIREMENT OF BRIG. GEN. SMITH.

Washington, D. C., Feb. 15.—Today, after a career of more than forty-two years of faithful and efficient service as an officer of the United States army, Brig. Gen. R. Smith of the quartermaster corps was placed on the retired list today on his own application. Gen. Smith is a native of New York and was graduated from West Point in 1875. For seven years he served with the 12th Infantry. In 1882 he was transferred to the pay department, and served continuously with that department up to the time of its merger with the Quartermaster Corps. Last November, he was colonel and assistant quartermaster general from 1905 until 1912 when he was appointed paymaster general, with the rank of brigadier general, and held that position until the department was abolished, last November, when he was transferred to the Quartermaster Corps with the same rank.

NEW DEPARTMENT WILL BE OPENED AT ONCE

Jacksonville Tailoring Company Has Secured Services of Expert Ladies' Tailor.

The Jacksonville Tailoring company will add to their extensive business an up-to-date ladies' tailoring department. Word has been received from Mr. A. A. Renner, who has been in Chicago for the past week looking after the interests of the local firm and making preparations for the opening of the new department, that he had succeeded in securing the services of Mr. Charles A. Clark to take charge of the ladies' department. Mr. Clark is a first class man and comes highly recommended. He has spent years in study, has actual experience in ladies' tailoring and cutting and is thoroughly familiar with the latest New York and Chicago styles. The managers of the Jacksonville Tailoring company are to be congratulated upon securing so competent a man to take charge of this branch of their business.

It is the intention of the firm to cater to popular price ladies' work, from $25 to $40 suits, and they believe with a man with the knowledge and experience of Mr. Clark, by fair and honest dealings with their patrons, they can work up an extensive line, as they have already done in men's tailoring.

The opening of this new line of business supplies a long felt want among the ladies of Jacksonville and vicinity. Mr. Clark will report at once and ladies interested in tailor made suits would do well to see him and become familiar with the new styles for spring.

PRIZES FOR SCHOOL INDUSTRIAL WORK.

"One cake, loaf of bread, fancy pillow, fancy apron, hemstitched handkerchief, three ears yellow corn, three ears pop corn, quart of new wheat, largest and best head of cabbage."

This signifies neither a church sale nor a county fair, but a school exhibit in a county where industrial work is recognized by regular training in the public schools and rewarded by prizes at the end of the year. The work is done at home under the direction of parents as well as teachers, according to information received at the United States bureau of education.

The county "industrial education exhibit" recently held at Goshen, Ind. where products such as these are shown, represents a school and home movement that is going on vigorously in many parts of the United States. It typifies the awakened interest in industrial training that has come to supplement, not supplant, the traditional work of the public schools. It means closer connection than ever before between school and life.

The business men of this Indiana county showed their interest in the school industrial exhibit by furnishing prizes for the best products in each class. The first prize for the best loaf of bread baked by a school girl was a gold ring, and the second an Axminster rug. The girl who served the most delicious luncheon of four dishes was rewarded with a "savory roaster." Boys from the high school who showed the most business like commercial paper—checks, notes, etc.—and wrote the best composition on "What a high school graduate should know and be able to do," were presented with subscriptions to local newspapers. The winners of the corn club exhibit were given the privilege of a two days trip to Purdue university, and there were many other premiums awarded for products actually made or grown by the school children of the county during the year.

Plans for giving credit in some way for work produced as a result of the educational process but not actually done in school are reported from many localities. The Massachusetts home project work in agriculture is one of the most successful attempt to correlate school and home. By this plan the pupil is required to do home farm work as part of the school program, and a portion of this work is done during school hours. The Oregon plan of school credit for home duties, where the idea is extended to include the widest possible range of home activities, has been tried with success in many schools.

An interesting plan is reported from Oconto county, Wisconsin. The superintendent in that county offers 20 per cent credit in geography on the eighth grade examinations for a scale map showing the location of factories, churches, schools and farms; 10 per cent in hygiene for keeping the teeth clean; 30 per cent in agriculture for selecting, drying and testing the seed corn for the farm, and for keeping a Babcock test record of at least four cows for one month; and some credit in language for letters written at home. Sac county, Iowa, allows credit for regular home duties, such as feeding the chickens, sweeping the floor, splitting kindlings, etc.

Three Missouri counties show their faith in human nature by asking the parent to mark on the official record the child's "standing" in manual or industrial work done at home: sweeping, dusting, dishwashing, baking, "setting" the fireless cookers, feeding stock, milking, "drawing the road," etc. The whole purpose is to vitalize the interest of both parent and child by showing the intimate connection between education and the daily life of the individual.

WOMAN'S RELIEF CORPS.

WOMAN'S COLLEGE NOTES.

The expression department has been quite prominent in the affairs of the college this week. On Monday, Feb. 10, Miss Kidder read "The Passing of the Third Floor Back." The house was crowded and all thoroughly enjoyed the evening's entertainment. On Wednesday night the department gave a program in honor of Lincoln's birthday. The hall was beautifully decorated with flags and with a large picture of Lincoln. The picture was loaned to the college through the courtesy of Mr. Andrew Russell.

Special attention is called to the recital which Miss Parsons of the expression department will give on Monday evening, March 10. She is preparing a very interesting evening of readings. Her friends of the school and those interested in this art are cordially invited.

Miss Lucy H. Gillett, head of the home economics department, gave an interesting lecture Tuesday afternoon at the public library. A full account of this has already appeared in the daily press. Her articles which are appearing in the Northwestern Christian Advocate are attracting very favorable attention.

The mid-year grades have been very satisfactory. Considerable improvement has been noted in several classes.

Rev. J. A. Biddle, of Murrayville, M. E. church, spent Thursday and Friday in calling on friends in the county in the interest of the Woman's college endowment.

Saturday evening, Feb. 8, there occurred in the old chapel one of the most clever entertainments that has been seen in the college for quite a while. It was known as a moving picture exhibit. The moving pictures consisted of representations of certain popular films, carried out by some of the students in pantomime. The costuming was very clever, and much originality was shown in the working out of the arrangements. Another clever attraction of the evening was the Damosa orchestra. The part of director was taken by Miss Anna Heist. The motions of the average orchestra conductor were faithfully represented by Miss Heist, much to the amusement of everyone.

Friday evening, Feb. 14, occurred the annual dinner to the seniors, given by President and Mrs. Harker in their parlors. In addition to the twenty-five seniors, who will receive their diplomas in June, the heads of the special departments were present. The decorations were in pink. A seven course dinner was served. The waters were young women from the academy department. Following the dinner an informal program, consisting of songs and readings, was given by Mrs. Hartmann, Miss Miller and Miss Parsons.

BANQUET TO JAMES BRYCE.

Philadelphia, Pa., Feb. 15.—The Rt. Hon. James Bryce, who soon will retire from the post of British ambassador at Washington, and Mrs. Bryce, are to be guests at a dinner to be given in their honor at the Bellevue-Stratford next Monday night by the Transatlantic Society of America. Bishop Talbot will preside at the banquet and among the guests will be representatives of all the arbitration and peace societies of the United States.

Don't Abuse a Man Sick With the Liquor Disease!

Send Him to Us and We Will Cure Him!

Yes! Cure him! In the last 32 years 400,000 men have been cured of the disease of drink by the Keeley Institute.

Drunkenness Is a Disease

The man who drinks to excess is to be pitied and helped—not abused.

Abuse will not cure a man of typhoid fever, or smallpox, or brain fever. Neither will it cure him of the liquor habit, which is a disease of the nerve cells requiring special treatment.

Dr. Keeley's definition of drunkenness is now universally recognized as absolutely correct. He says:

"It is a condition wherein the nerve cells have become so accustomed to performing their duties and functions under the influence of alcohol that they will no longer perform those duties and functions properly and painlessly except when under its influence."

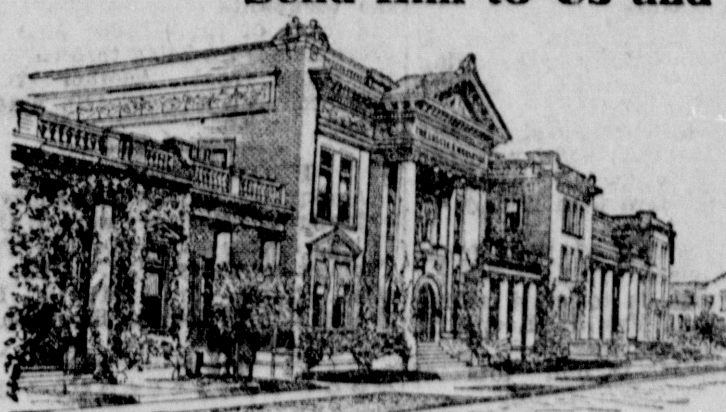

There is little or no hope that, unaided, an inebriate can or will stop drinking of his own accord or by the exercise of his own enfeebled will power.

We also cure Opium, Morphine and other drug addictions. The drug is withdrawn gradually and there is no shock, collapse, prostration or sickness. Full particulars in plain, sealed envelope on request.

Home remedies are prepared and sold by us for the cure of the Tobacco Habit and many forms of nervous troubles. Send for printed matter today.

We have a Chicago office, Suite 906 Rector Building, 79 West Monroe Street, where arrangements may be made.

How the Keeley Treatment Cures

The Keeley remedies are reconstructive tonics which restore the nerve cells to a healthy condition. When this is done the "craving" disappears, because, like a cough, it is merely a symptom of a disease and not the disease itself. The treatment is absolutely non-injurious and causes no sickness. There is no confinement of patients. The general health improves from the first day.

Result of the Keeley Treatment

It frees the patients, absolutely, from all craving, appetite and necessity for alcoholic stimulants. The man is also vastly improved mentally, physically and morally. His head is clear, mind active, appetite and digestion good, eyes bright. His desire for drink is gone, he is disgusted with his former life, and filled with ambition to "make a fresh, clean start."

LETTER FROM MEXICO.
By Associated Press.

Mexico City. — Accounts of battles, uprisings, intrigues and general revolutionary disturbances covering a period of more than two years have continued with such monotonous frequency that both here and abroad mention of the government's struggle with a discontented people is regarded as an "old story," but to a great many thousand individuals it has a more vital interest now than ever. By many, it is believed that the end of the fight is not far off; the increasing number of rebels is doggedly striking at everything that suggests Madero's administration; the non-combatant and passive element, including everyone of the so-called better class, anxiously awaits each new development and foreigners begin half their conversations with "What do you think Wilson will do?"

The close of January showed little if any improvement for the government. On numerous occasions the government announced that this or that rebel leader had been killed in action, but in a majority of cases the slaughtered one has proven the government's information erroneous by reappearing at the head of his men in territory some distance from where he was supposed to have been killed. Two of Pascual Orozco's officers of importance—Francisco del Toro and Luis Fernandez—did surrender, one of them bringing with him more than a hundred men, but the other surrendered chiefs have been men of almost negligible importance. From a few regions the rebels have departed or have been driven out, but what was an advantage to the peaceful residents of those regions was almost invariably a disadvantage to property owners of other regions into which the insurgents had ridden.

The movements of the rebels in the north, along the American frontier, attract more attention in the United States than do the operations of those in the south. Mexican government circles also display keener interest in the border operations, perhaps on account of the attendant danger of international complications. The greatest activity, however, and by far the largest groups of rebels, are found in the region south of the capital. The isolation of towns of considerable importance no longer is of enough interest to arouse public apprehension to a high pitch, and not even the presence of rebels within ten and fifteen miles of Mexico City excites the residents of the capital.

Stories of atrocities are common, and the bearing away of young girls by Zapatistas excites about the same degree of interest as does the report that the rebels have confiscated so many head of cattle. The rebels in the north are not given to the same methods of personal revenge as are those in the south. Occasionally the northern rebels have executed federalists in reprisal, but in the south wanton torture is common. Recently, in the state of Mexico, forty miles from the national capital the Zapatistas, angry at an aged Indian who persisted in carrying the mail after he had been warned not to, disciplined him by first cutting off both his feet. Then they cut off his hands, and the last act was the thrusting of a pole through the man's neck and the hanging of his body in a tree, the ends of the pole resting on branches.

Foreigners, and especially Americans, are not suffering as much as might be expected, due, perhaps, to the fact that probably four-fifths of them have fled from the rebel-infested districts.

Arrests of prominent persons in Mexico are not uncommon these days, and the judges of the supreme court have felt that a little precaution on their part might save embarrassment. In due and formal manner the members of this body decided to carry with them cards of identification which were calculated to convince any zealous police officer that the judges were entitled to the same exemptions that a congressman enjoys.

To protest against the conscription of many of their neighbors, a committee of the citizens of Tenango, in the state of Mexico, has called at the office of the minister of interior. They explained that the federal army officers had made a mistake; that in rounding up a lot of Zapatistas for enforced service in the army, they had carried off a number of peaceful citizens. The committee protested that since these men had not been fighting against the government, they should not be forced to fight for it. The minister of interior promised to call the matter to the attention of the minister of war, who, he assured them, would take such steps as he thought best.

Beautiful Picture of Bible History

At The Grand Monday and Tuesday Feb. 17-18th

Manager Hunt of the Grand theatre wishes to announce that he will exhibit the extraordinary feature film in five parts, "From the Manager to the Cross," or "Jesus in Nazareth," for two days, Monday and Tuesday, Feb. 17 and 18. Mrs. Ben Francis, the master historian, will lecture throughout the running of films.

No great story has ever been told that has not awakened in the mind of hearer a desire to see actual scenes and characters that are woven into the tale.

This bears witness to the fact that the ear alone is not a sufficient medium for receiving knowledge. The sense of seeing must be allowed to play its part, and the striking accuracy and coloring that the Tissot scene with its actors must be thrown upon the retina of the eye, and only when we have thus visualized our impressions are we wholly satisfied. The life of Christ, as the most masterful and absorbing of all stories for both young and old, has been subject to innumerable attempts at illustration.

Tissot, the great French painter, went to the Holy Lands, and after years of painstaking observation and study, he gave the world over three hundred pictures of the Life of Christ and it was the desire of the Kalem company that this production should possess the same degree of picture exhibit, and with the idea in view a company of forty-two players was selected, trained and taken to Palestine and Egypt, with all the necessary movable scenery and effects, besides the members of the company carried with them a complete set of the Tissot pictures and learned commentaries, far as possible in advance, they might prepare themselves for the task before them, and after about six months of hard labor and an expenditure of $100,000 they were successful in placing before the world the most wonderful conception of the Life of Christ ever produced.

RAILROAD STOCKS SELL OFF SHARPLY

Representatives of Railroad Men Rejected Arbitration on Terms Proposed by Railway Managers—No Pronounced Selling Pressure Until Final Drive.

(By Associated Press)
New York, Feb. 15.—Railroad stocks sold off sharply in the last five minutes of trading today, after it was made known that representatives of the firemen on the eastern railroads had rejected arbitration on the terms proposed by the railway managers. Previous to this time the movement had been narrow and unimportant, with a heavy tone at intervals. Lack of definite information from Mexico and concerning the prospects for a strike of firemen had restricted speculation to small proportions. There was no pronounced selling pressure until the final drive and as bear operators seemed in no haste to cover the market was dull. Pennsylvania was one of the conspicuously weak issues, selling down to 118, the lowest since 1908.

Although it was reported that leading selling interests had fixed their price of refined copper for future deliveries at 15 cents, the copper stocks did not reflect the weakness of the metal market. They showed strength at times, owing presumably to covering.
No pronounced changes in the money situation were indicated by the bank statement, which was a marked improvement over last week's. The actual table showed only a nominal cash loss of $600,000, and there was a small gain in excess reserves.

The weekly trade reviews were fairly optimistic. Despite cross currents in trade and disquieting events in various parts of the world it was asserted that conservative expansion of business continued.

PLANS READY FOR SCHOOL BUILDING

EIGHTH GRADE STRUCTURE TO HAVE FOUR STORIES.

Will Be of Scholastic Style of Architecture — Gymnasium Occupies Most of First Floor—Great Study Hall Provided—Ventilation, Heating and Plumbing to Be of Most Approved Systems.

The board of education at a special meeting Saturday afternoon formally adopted the plans and specifications for the new eighth grade building prepared by C. W. Buckingham. Bids are to be received for the construction of the building March 17th.

The plans which are now on file, in the office of the clerk of the board, and in the office of the architect indicate that the proposed building will be plain in the general style of its architecture, that it will be well lighted and that it will provide ample room for eighth grade pupils and afford gymnasium facilities for high school pupils as well as those in the eighth grade. The building is to stand on the lot just north of the present high school building which was acquired by the board of education for that purpose. The size of this lot is 138x260 feet and it is bounded by Court, Fayette, Jordan and Kosciusko streets.

Will Be Large Building.

The building will be 95x170 in its general dimensions and there will be four entrances, two on the south side and two on the north. While the building will front toward Jordan street, the south side which is to face toward State street will not present a far different appearance from the front. The main north wall of the building will be twenty-five feet from Jordan street, and the south line will be eighteen feet from Court street, making the distance between the new building and the high school building eighty-three feet. The building will be erected with brick trimmed with blue Bedford stone and will be four stories high. Matt brick will be used in the construction although the exact color has not yet been determined. It will be of some dark shade. Matt brick have a rough finish and a very artistic effect can be secured from their use.

Scholastic Type of Architecture.
When asked as to the style or architecture Saturday Architect Buckingham said: "Well, the best term that I think applies to it is scholastic. This is not a technical term but its use began in connection with some buildings at Chicago university and it signifies the general type of building used for many educational institutions. The building here proposed will be of the scholastic style with some Gothic and Egyptian treatment. However, the whole building will be very plain and with just enough of the ornamental to relieve any possible severity. The idea has been to furnish a plain substantial building affording plenty of room, the facilities needed for school work, plenty of light, and with an adequate system of ventilation and absolutely sanitary, modern plumbing.

The building will have a flat composition roof, and Mr. Buckingham said yesterday that this style has been largely adopted in the direction of school buildings during recent years from the fact that the high and gabled roofs are expensive to build in the first place and expensive to maintain in the second place. Experience has shown this to be true with reference to the Jacksonville high school building.

Spacious Gymnasium.

The building will have no basement and the entrances will be on a level with the street. The first floor will include the gymnasium 63x90 in its general dimensions. At the south side will be a spacious stage or platform. When one enters at the south door on the east side, he will find himself in a tiled vestibule which leads into the corridor. This corridor extends clear through to the north side of the building and from this corridor there are several doors leading into the gymnasium proper. On the east side of the corridor are four rooms for the use of boys. A cloak room, a toilet room, one fitted with shower baths; and a lunch room designed for pupils who take their noon day meals at school. Over on the west side of the building the arrangements and equipment are the same, these rooms being designed for the girls of the school leading into the gymnasium is twenty-six feet from the floor and so this room extends through the second story. The stage or platform is at the south side of the gymnasium and back of it is a room for the instructor and another for apparatus. The gymnasium room can be used for commencement or other large assemblies.

The Study Hall.

On this floor the gymnasium room is circumscribed by the running track which will be in dimensions twenty-two laps to the mile. This floor also affords six class rooms, one faculty room and one room designed for board of education meetings and for the storage of any special board of education records or property. The third floor has a study hall 64x90 in dimensions, this room being practically the size of the gymnasium below it. It will afford space for 500 desks and over at one side is a moderate sized platform or stage. There are also on this floor eight class rooms, the office of the principal and a girls rest room. On this floor as on the two below it the corridors of the east and west sides of the building are connected by hallways making it very easy for a large number of persons to move to the one below with speed. It should have been mentioned above that four stairways lead from each floor to the one above it.

Domestic Science Department.

The fourth floor will be devoted wholly to the domestic science or home economics department. There will be six class rooms, cooking room, pantry, dining room, reception room, model bed room, and three storage departments. The principal subjects taught in this department are cooking, sewing and millinery and the equipment or arrangement will be such as to aid in the work of the department. For example in the reception room there will be a fire place and this room is connected with the one adjoining by a sliding door. When pupils of the domestic science department are entertaining, or giving any social affair which the course prescribes they will use this room the appearance of one in a private and well ordered home. The study hall in the third floor extend up through the fourth floor and it is thus afforded the necessary height for a room of such size and the splendid lighting facilities which the skylights give.

General Details.

Such in a general way is a description of the proposed building and equipment. There having been no intention in this article to go into great detail. The floors all over the building will be of maple and the doors and other woodwork will be of unseasoned birch. The architect has consistently kept in view the need of light in such a building and the windows are many and spacious. The amount of light required has been figured out on the basis of square feet of floor space the scientific way of getting at the light needed, taking into account whether it be from north, south, or whatever direction the light may come.

Special attention has also been given to the matter of ventilation and it will be by a fan system with mechanically forced draft. The plans call for what is known as the split system, which is said to be the very best method for use in buildings of this character. The heating will be by direct steam system and the plumbing will be the most modern and sanitary known. While the arrangement of stairways, corridors, and halls is such that the building can be quickly and easily emptied of its occupants, nevertheless ample provision has been made for fire protection and there are three stand pipes on each floor. The building will be fully equipped with electric light fixtures throughout.

Will Have Drinking Fountains.

Another feature will be the drinking fountains provision having been made for six on each floor, this of course with the idea that Jacksonville, is to have a supply of drinking water. A glance at the plans show that there will be a great deal of steel construction on the building. There will be steel beams and girders to a large extent in the gymnasium and study hall construction making this strong construction necessary. Altogether the plans indicate a building which will add very materially to the school equipment of Jacksonville, and the building when completed, will certainly be a great and valuable addition to the school system. Its purpose to some extent is to provide room for eighth grade pupils, to give added facilities to the high school and by relieving congestion in the high school building and by taking seventh grade pupils from the ward schools to this central school to afford more room in all the ward buildings.

FOR DELICATE CHILDREN

A Mother's Letter to Mothers.
Mrs. E. W. Cooper of Bloomfield, N. J., says: "My child, 7 years old, had a bad cold and was weak and quite run down in health. She had been in this condition for about six weeks when I began giving her Vinol. It was a wonderful help to the child, breaking up her cold quickly and building up her strength beside. I have also found Vinol a most excellent tonic for keeping up the children's strength during a siege of whooping cough."

Vinol is a wonderful combination of two world-famed tonics—the medicinal body building elements of cod liver oil and iron for the blood, therefore it is a perfectly safe medicine for children, because it is not a patent medicine, everything in it is printed on every package, so mothers may know what they are giving their little ones.

Therefore we ask every mother of a weak, sickly or ailing child in this vicinity to try Vinol on our guarantee. Lee P. Allcott, Druggist, Jacksonville, Ill.

P. S. Our Saxo Salve is truly wonderful for Eczema. We guarantee it.

IN BASEBALL WORLD.

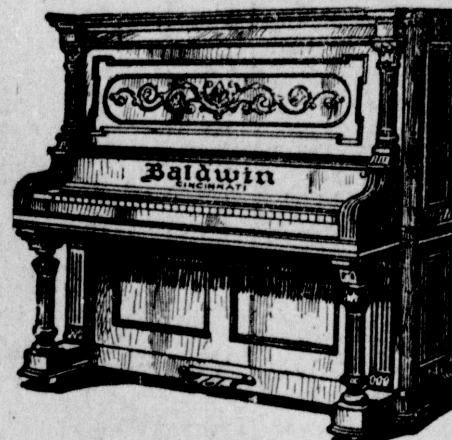

The base ball season of 1913 may be considered as fairly under way at last and soon the welcome voice of the umpire will be heard in the land. The Cubs, minus the Peerless Leader, but with Johnny Evers as their pilot, left the 12th street station, Chicago, Saturday night, bound for the land of crickles and sunshine. For a solid month Evers' crew will cavort about the newly laid out grass diamond at Tampa. The best quarters have been secured for the trip and are borne entirely by the Chamber of Commerce of that enterprising town. C. Webb Murphy should feel pretty good all around. He has yet to find out whether the Trojan is going to be a successful manager or not. But in case the star second sacker fails to deliver Murphy is well fortified for talent, having Roger Bresnahan, and we more than half suspect, will go in on the job. The Cubs will hardly be recognizable this season to those of the faithful who have stood by Chance, these many years. It will seem like an entirely new team when the race starts. And that may indeed be the case. There is a small army to be tried out under Evers' watchful eye and by the time the bell rings it is not altogether certain that there may be out but two or three of last season's men with the Cub adorning their shirt front. Fans should not be too precipitate about consigning Cubs to the second division. Mr. J. Evers is some foxy boy and apt to show the old timers a few novelties in the art of getting a team to playing together. At any rate he has the best wishes of even his enemies and John has not a few.

Monday the seventeenth, will witness the gathering of the clan of the McGraws. St. Louis is to be the scene. That night the gang will depart of their old rendezvous, Marlin Springs, Texas, and there John will begin the task of grooming his well tried veils and aspiring youngsters for another lash for the flag. It is pretty well conceded that the Giants are going to cog again. They should on form. But there is a possibility that the pitching staff is just a bit wobbly and unless some of the recruits come through with the real goods there is apt to be strenuous work for the tribe to hold the lead. They should unless the other teams show unexpected strength. They are going to be the greatest drawing card on the road this year, not even excluding Chance and his Highlanders. Everybody is anxious to see Thorpe, the Indian recruit in action. Thorpe says his Indian name is "Drags His Ropes". He is a modest fellow and has made a hit with McGraw right at the start.

Chance and his bunch will train in Bermuda, the land made famous by Bermuda onions and Woodrow Wilson. By the way the president-elect is a real fan and knows the game from the inside. He will no doubt be found in the Washington grand stand many a day next summer cheering for the great Walter Johnson, just as President Taft was so fond of doing. Griffith is about the only manager in both leagues who has stood pat on last years team. He is so sure of finishing within the first three that he has offered all sorts of wagers. Few takers, however. Now that John Henry is reported to be able to work regularly back of the bat the Senatorial bunch should have almost a walkaway. Seems strange for Washington to be figuring in the anti season hope. Heretofore they were fortunate to be even mentioned except as sure to be the target bearer.

Mrs. R. A. Fitzgerald of White Hall was in the city yesterday visiting with her daughter, Mrs. E. C. Roach of West North street.

What the One Price, No-Commission Plan of Selling Pianos to the Public Means TO THE PURCHASER

1st: That every piano in our store is marked at the very lowest cash price that pianos of such quality as we handle can be sold for any time and any place.

2nd: Being out of the high rent district, employing no salesmen, tuners or expensive help enables me to sell at one small factory profit. I am in a position to make the lowest possible prices on high grade standard pianos.

3rd: We are proud of the fact that we are exclusive representatives of the Famous Old Reliable Baldwin Line of Pianos and Player-Pianos. Such makes as Baldwin, Ellington, Hamilton, Howard and Monarch pianos, need no introduction to the purchasers of high grade pianos anywhere in the civilized world. Names that have been the standard for fifty years of successful manufacturing. Pianos that can only be represented by reliable dealers. These pianos have a certain commercial value, both to buyers and sellers and can't be "peddled" at fifty different prices.

4th: Our terms of payments enables anyone to enjoy a piano while they are paying for it. You pay no more than the cash buyer, except a small rate of interest to pay expense of bookkeeping. Have just received a shipment of the new 1913 styles which we would be glad to have you inspect.

Among games played was a Dutch shoe game, a "wild goose chase," and a Dutch valentine contest. Prizes were won by Mrs. W. T. Wilson, Mrs. Frank Vickery, Miss Paxton, Miss Mason and Mrs. T. P. Carter. DRAMA LEAGUE NOTES.

The first installment of Drama League literature has just been received by the local center and contains much that is valuable.

One of the leaflets containing "Suggestions for Drama Study" says: "The Drama can prosper only as the taste of the public improves. It is one of the aims of the Drama League to help along a better understanding of the purpose and of the possibilities of the theatre and a sounder appreciation of the principles of dramatic art."

A professor in the union of Chicago writes: "The last three years have brought a demand for the drama no one would have dared to prophesy."

The finer the intelligence and appreciation of the theatre-going public, the better the quality of the drama which will be produced.

TEACHERS' INSTITUTE HELD AT WAVERLY SATURDAY

Morning Session Conducted For Teachers and Officials. Afternoon For Officials.

County superintendent of schools H. C. Montgomery, conducted a very instructive institute at Waverly Saturday morning and afternoon. The morning session was for teachers and the afternoon session for school officers.

About twenty-five teachers attended the morning session and the subjects presented by Mr. Montgomery were: "Powers and Duties of Teachers," "Standardizing Schools," and "Annual Reports." This session opened at 9 o'clock and closed at 12. The afternoon session opened at 1:30 and was for school officers, about forty being in attendance. The same subjects were presented with the exception that "The Powers and Duties of Directors," was used instead of "The Powers and Duties of Teachers." At each of the sessions a discussion followed the presentation of the subjects and the meetings proved quite profitable, those in attendance showing a great deal of enthusiasm and interest.

Next Saturday the same subjects will be presented to the teachers and officers of the public schools of the county, at a meeting to be held in this city.

INJURED BY FALL ON PAVEMENT

Bernard Lonergan, a cigarmaker who resides on South Main street, fell on North Sandy street, Saturday about noon, inflicting an ugly wound and rendering him unconscious. He was seen to emerge from a restaurant on North Sandy street and reel toward a street sign, which he struck in falling. As he did not arise right away a number of men ran to his assistance, and Officer Eads with the assistance of some men carried him to the police station where Dr. A. M. King was called. It took six stitches to close the wound and after his relatives were notified of the accident they had him removed to Our Savior's hospital.

Miss L. L. Davies, a representative of the Butterick Publishing Co., N. Y., will be with us, Monday Tuesday and Wednesday. We invite you to call. Full information about all the new spring styles. Butterick Styles lead the world. The sun always shines on the Butterick name.
